

MORE ROOM FOR THE SHEEP SHOW

Allotted Space at Fair Grounds Must Be Doubled to Accommodate the Exhibits.

CONVENTION IS IMPORTANT

PROMINENT MEN WILL ATTEND WOOL GROWERS' MEETING.

Larger quarters than those already assigned at the State Fair grounds must be provided for the Fine and Fat Sheep show, to be held there in connection with the annual convention of the National Wool Growers' association, Jan. 17-19, 1907.

This was definitely determined yesterday, when the various committees in charge of the show met at the Commercial club and reported on the preliminary arrangements. So many notices of entrance have been received that at least twice the space now provided for the show must be arranged for. Every indication points to a remarkable display of exhibits.

The convention of the wool growers promises to be the most important meeting this organization has ever held, inasmuch as it will be the first convention held separately from the National Live-stock association's annual conventions. Heretofore the latter organization has overshadowed the wool growers in the combined conventions of the two associations. The wool growers are determined to give their own interests better support than has been possible under the former arrangements for annual conventions, and the separate convention this year is the outcome of this determination.

Want to Lease Ranges.
Range preservation legislation by congress, and new federal regulations concerning the feeding and care of sheep in transit to the packing house stockyards, will be the two most important subjects to occupy the attention of the wool men. The sheep raisers are making an attempt to perfect arrangements, through legislation, if P. C. Quigley, their representative, will be permitted to lease large blocks of ranges from the government for long terms of years for grazing purposes. There are many flaws in the present laws governing the care of sheep en route to packing centers, and the sheep men want them revised.

Fully 1,200 delegates will attend the convention and these, with the attendants at the sheep show, will bring a total of 2,000 visitors here during the convention.

Prominent Men Coming.

The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Jan. 17, by President Francis E. Warren, Governor of Utah, who will deliver an address of welcome on behalf of the state, and Mayor Ezra Thompson for the city. President Charles A. Quigley, of the Commercial club, will extend the hospitality of that organization to the delegates.

The afternoon session Thursday and the morning session Friday will be devoted to the business of the convention. Friday afternoon the delegates will be given a chance to inspect the sheep show at the fair grounds, and Friday night a grand concert will be given in their honor at the tabernacle. The two sessions Saturday will be given over to session business. A smoker and reception at the Commercial club Saturday evening will close the convention. A large number of prominent men from all over the west will attend the convention and address the delegates.

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls of Bell, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the surface; this caused the swelling and swelling to disappear, never to return." Oregon Short Line Is Hurrying Work on Yellowstone Extension.

"The Oregon Short Line's extension from Marysville to the eastern edge of Yellowstone park will be completed by June 1," Superintendent R. McTavish, of the Yellowstone Stage Line company, made this announcement yesterday. Mr. McTavish has headquarters at Marysville, and is in this city on business. "Work is being pushed, several gangs are now grading and laying the track as rapidly as possible, as it is important that no time be lost," he said. "Travel to the park last year passed all former records, and next season's business is expected to be still greater. The line was expected to have been completed and opened for business at the close of last year's season, but a stretch of twelve or fifteen miles of the route was found to be one mass of hard rock. Heavy work was necessitated to carry the grade through this, and after months of the most difficult road building it is finished. "Grading gangs are now working in the vicinity of Osborne and the big ranch owned by Vice President and General Manager W. H. Bancroft of the Oregon Short Line, and other Harriman officials. The line is now about thirty-six miles from the edge of the park, but as the grade is easy, next spring's opening is a certainty."

The completion of this line offers an advantage to Salt Lake, in eliminating the long stage ride from Marysville to the park, over a half hundred miles. When trains are moving over the extension Salt Lake can leave this city one evening, arrive at the park on the following evening, spend a day in the park and return to Salt Lake, all in three days. Business men will lose less than a day in making this trip, where to make it before a week's vacation was needed.

ADDS PULLMAN SLEEPER.

Travel to Boise Necessitates Extra Equipment.

An additional Pullman sleeper has been put into service between Salt Lake and Boise by the Oregon Short Line because of the increase in passenger traffic between these points. This Pullman will be added to the equipment of No. 7, which leaves Salt Lake at 10:20 o'clock each morning, and an extra standard sleeper will be attached to No. 36, which reaches Salt Lake each morning at 10:00 o'clock. The passenger department of the Oregon Short Line asserts that interstate travel is heavier than ever before. This extension is made also by all local railroad offices.

The early holiday rates are on and hundreds of Salt Lake residents plan spending Christmas with old folks and relatives in outside cities. The ticket offices of the Salt Lake Route, Oregon Short Line, Grande, and in short every ticket office in the city, is crowded from opening to closing hours. Rates for one fare for round trip have been advertised for points in Utah, while other correspondingly attractive rates have been scheduled for travel to other states. Tickets purchased under the reduced rates will be good in most instances until Jan. 7 and after.

REPLIES TO JUDGE BROWN.

C. C. Anderson Says Juvenile Court Did Him Injustice.

C. C. Anderson, proprietor of the Imperial hotel, said yesterday that the juvenile court had done him an injustice in charging him with contributing to the delinquency of Ruth Everett. "Judge Brown accused me of keeping a disreputable place," said Anderson, "and I think my reply to the court should be made public. I told Judge Brown that I have been in business here for seven years and have always borne a good reputation. I stated further that I have always closed my doors against disreputable persons. As far as the case of Ruth Everett is concerned, she entered my house without the knowledge of my night clerk or myself and with her companions went into a room unobserved. She would never have been permitted to remain there had her presence been known."

TONS OF TURKEYS ARRIVE.

Shipment from East to Supply Christmas Trade.

A shipment consisting of 10,000 pounds of eastern turkeys arrived on the local market Tuesday. These turkeys are selling for 22 cents a pound wholesale and 25 cents retail. Utah turkeys have been coming in only in limited supplies, it being the probability that the farmers are holding back in expectation of better prices a few days before Christmas. The shipment from the east comes at an opportune time. It is the general opinion at the stalls along market row that the price of turkeys will remain the same throughout the holidays.

JAPS ARE TO BE HELD.

Root Requests Provisional Arrest of Three Suspects.

Secretary Root of the state department at Washington has advised Governor Cutler that he has requested the American ambassador at Tokio to request the provisional arrest of three Japanese who landed there yesterday, and who are suspected of having embezzled $15,000 from laborers in Box Elder county, Utah. The names of the Japanese wanted are Okazaki Ishitaro, Nakayama Idutaro and Nagamata Taschichi. Governor Cutler has requested the sheriff of Tucson, Ariz., that photographs of the Japanese under arrest there on suspicion be sent to Sheriff Josephson of Box Elder county.
